

Pastor's Biography

Craig Schoenberger was born and raised in the small town of Painesville, Ohio east of Cleveland. After high school, he graduated with an Associate's degree in Turf Grass Management, and was a Certified Golf Course Superintendent at a private country club. In the world's eyes Craig was doing well. But, during this time the Lord was drawing Craig to His side through a professing believer at work, and a mother who had recently passed away. Craig, and his wife Susie began attending a local Baptist church and both were shortly saved by the grace of God.

Not long after his conversion Craig felt the call to know God more, and go to Bible College. Craig and his wife Susie, along with their two children, sold most of their belongings, home, and moved to Scranton, Pennsylvania. There he attended Baptist Bible College and was dorm parent in a boy's dorm while learning the glorious truths about our saving God.

After graduating from Bible College it was essential Craig be further equipped and gain the necessary tools to accurately handle the Word of God. God clearly led and provided for the whole family as they went to Dallas Theological Seminary, graduating with a Master's degree in Theology. Recently he was pursuing doctoral studies at the Masters Seminary in Sun Valley, Ca.

Craig has pastored at various churches from the East to the West coasts. His gifts are evident in his life as he is a verse by verse expositor/teacher, and enjoys expounding the depths of God's Word. He is always available for godly counsel, and will turn you to Scripture for guidance. He has been married to his wife, Susie, for forty years, and she is his loving help mate. Together, they have two married children and nine grandchildren.
